Mrs. Woodside and Miss Gilman are in St. Louis familiarizing themselves with the new ideas and fads in millinery and also selecting their spring and summer stocks. More definite announcement will be made later and the ladies are assured that the selection will be complete.

A. J. Boardman, cashier of the Bank of Fredericktown, has been in the valley the past week soliciting stock subscriptions for the establishment of a bank with a capital stock of $10,000 at Arcadia. It is said that sufficient stock has already been subscribed to insure the institution of the bank.

THE REGISTER this week prints the announcement of James Lewis as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for County Judge of the Southern District of Iron county. Mr. Lewis is no stranger to the voters of Iron county, having served two years as Assessor. He solicits consideration of his claims.

There is no better telephone service given in this State than that enjoyed in this valley for the past two years, under the ownership and direction of Baldwin Bros. I do not write this as news, but as fact deserving of mention. I wish that that firm could see its way clear to establish an electric light plant here.

Otto Thomas, of Granite City, was here last week and rented his farm, west of town, to Les. Yount for this season. Mr. Thomas expects to come to the valley in June. He is trying to secure the privileges for the Assemblies at "Epworth Among the Hills," and on Arcadia Heights. He is an experienced caterer.

Rev. W. W. Strother of Des Arc assisted Rev. Jacob, the pastor, in a two weeks' meeting at the Methodist church in Bunker, which closed Sunday night. Mr. Strother says it was almost the best meeting he ever held, there being many conversions in the town and throughout the country round about.—Piedmont Banner.

Rev. C. E. Edwards will occupy the Presbyterian pulpit in Ironton, March 3d, postponing his services at Hillsboro until March 10th. Rev. T. B. Rice, pastor evangelist of Iron Mountain Presbytery, will conduct services for a week at Hillsboro, beginning March 3d. Mr. Edwards will preach at Pilot Knob on the 3d, at 3 p. m.

The snow had drifted so deep in places that our dairyman, Mr. Alexander, was unable to get around last Wednesday at all. Nor did he appear Thursday until 'way in the afternoon. Mr. Alexander says he just could not make his way through the deep snow to town. Some snow when it's that way. In fact, unheard of here heretofore.

Well, our big snow of last Tuesday and Wednesday is about gone, thank goodness! The weather bureau predicted another big snow storm for Monday and Monday night, but it failed to come, although Monday was very threatening all day long. Monday night was colder and Tuesday as fine a day as you ever saw.

The following is reproduced from the Los Angeles, California, Tattler: "Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Blood, of New York, who were recently married, arrived at the Van Nuys this week, will spend their honeymoon touring throughout Southern California. Mr. Blood is a well known wine importer of New York and Mrs. Blood was Miss Toots Davis, a charming girl of St. Louis."

Gilbert Vance, a prominent young farmer of near Ironton, and Miss Edna Forshee, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. House, in Taylortown, the latter part of last week. Rev. R. G. Ramsey officiated. The happy couple departed the following day for the groom's farm near Ironton to reside.—Flat River correspondence to Farmington News.

Joseph A. Reyburn was the only one of the delegates from Iron county who attended the convention in Joplin last week. Mr. Russell did not start. Mr. Edgar went as far as St. Louis, but the prospect of bad weather turned him homeward again. So Joseph made the journey alone. He says that it was a great convention and that Joplin is a great town. Mr.

Reyburn intended visiting a sister, Mrs. McKinney, who lives about twenty miles from Joplin, but the big snow storm played havoc with the train service out there for two or three days and he had to abandon his proposed trip. He returned to Ironton Friday night.

In printing the list of roadoverseers last week we omitted one name. Here is the list complete:

Following an operation performed two weeks previous, Robert P. Schneider, president of the Schneider Granite Company, died at his home in St. Louis Sunday afternoon. Deceased was forty-four years of age and a son of the late P. W. Schneider. He had been in poor health for a long while. Besides his widow, Mrs. Emma Schneider, (nee Steffen), he is survived by his mother, Mrs. P. W. Schneider, a sister, Mrs. Mamie Block, and a brother, Charles W. Schneider. The funeral occurred Tuesday. The deceased was well known here, having spent many years of his life at the quarries in Graniteville. To the bereaved we extend sympathy.

Ed. Register—Our American people have heard of the famine in China but do not seem to realize its awful extent. The wonderful revolution has been accomplished with comparatively little bloodshed. Even at Nanking the imperialist soldiers retreated in peace, and reports of losses have been exaggerated. But millions may die of starvation. This, at least, should be known in America—for famine relief, our missionary boards of the various Evangelical churches are second to none, for promptness, efficiency and intelligence. Any of our local pastors can see that any contributions will be forwarded, if necessary, by telegraph. Is not this better than to feed degenerate, dangerous tramps?

CHAS. E. EDWARDS.

Rev. A. S. Coker who has been ill for the past three months, was taken to St. Louis last Saturday for examination. He was accompanied by Mrs. Coker and Dr. Harry Parker and A. J. Slack. After arriving at Tower Grove it was found that he could not be accommodated at the Deaconess Hospital, a Methodist institution, hence was taken to the Frisco Hospital upon advice of the specialist who met the party at the Tower Grove station. At this institution he was subjected to a thorough examination, and while it was found that an operation was necessary to relieve him of his trouble, yet his condition was pronounced too weak at this time to withstand the ordeal. Being unable to secure immediate relief in the city, Rev. and Mrs. Coker preferred to return to their home in this city, hence wired friends that they would arrive on the noon train Monday. It was with sad hearts our people learned of the conclusion reached by the St. Louis specialist, but their prayers are that the disease attacking the vitals of this good man will gradually be counteracted by medical aid at the hands of the local physician, Dr. A. H. Horn, and that he will again become strong and robust.—Steelville Ledger.

A deputy game warden whose name we did not learn, who claimed to be all the way from Bear Creek, which is supposed to be located somewhere within the boundaries of Wayne county, arrived in town Tuesday on the Corridon mail hack. He did not make himself known until next morning when he called at the County Clerk's office and revealed his identity and tried to enlist the aid of the clerk in organizing a hunting party to go hunting that morning and give him, the d. g. w., an opportunity to call on the members of the party for their license after they had got well into the woods. He knew that no license had been issued in this county this year and he hoped to make a big catch of game law violators in this way. But of course his scheme was flatly turned down by the clerk, and the great Bear Creek sleuth being determined to make some show of the great power invested in him by Jess Tolerton, hiked out up the public road a short way when lo and behold what should he see come plodding down the road—a man! And that man had a gun! The man happened to be Bill Lloyd. When they met and after a few preliminary questions the d. g. w., who by the way is also said to be postmaster of Bear Creek, called for Lloyd's hunting license, which he could not produce, and they returned to town where the "case" was laid before the prosecuting attorney by the d. g. w. The prosecutor promptly and rightfully refused to prosecute Lloyd, and the matter was dropped, notwithstanding the protests of the Bear Creek deputy game warden and postmaster, who left this place early next morning.—Centerville Outlook.

Total enrollment is now 277.

The snow was once more the cause for low attendance.

Two of the primary rooms, No. 1 and No. 3, report a month without a single child being absent or tardy. The habit of punctuality is a very fine thing. It speaks well for the teachers in charge of these rooms.

The high school literary society gave one of the best programs of the year at its regular session Friday afternoon.

The speaker who was to address the school last Monday, has promised to come next Monday.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one remedy to cure all its ills, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only medicine known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and curing the patient permanently by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

W. R. C.'s Social Evening.

The W. R. C.'s were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Damron Friday evening, February 23d, Mesdames Edgar, Francis and Hawkins as hostesses. The evening was spent in reading, music and a contest relating to our presidents. The piano solo by Mrs. Damron was especially good. The contest resulted in Mr. Wm. R. Edgar winning the George Washington hatchet as first prize. The second prize, a box of bon bons, was won by Mrs. Damron. After the contest all repaired to the dining room where a copious feast awaited. The table was decorated in national colors suggestive of the season. The members departed at a late hour declaring it a most enjoyable evening. X.

I attended the Washington birthday entertainment given by our public school. The declamation and recitations were fine. The "Tea Party," by several boys and girls was quite interesting, and brought back old time customs. Betsy Ross was represented, making the first flag of our nation. George Washington was represented and received the flag with several soldiers. An appropriate address was delivered and the music was fine, being mostly national airs. The "Flag Drill" by twelve little girls was the best of all. They went through the drill and marched to time like soldiers. Prof. McKee and Miss Keathley deserve much credit for the work they are doing.

Rev. Abernathy filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church Sunday. His theme was, "As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, so must the son of man be lifted up." His closing song was "Look and Live," a very appropriate song for the occasion.

C. S. Fitz spent Sunday with home folks. He is buying for the Western Tie & Lumber Co., and pays cash when loaded.

T. J. Moss has all the sidetracks blocked with ties. If they are not shipped soon it will paralyze business. It looks like it would be to the interest of the railroad to look after this as the mill men are kicking.

Mrs. Tom Lovelace and children have returned from a visit with her brother near Annapolis.

Misses Eva and Lena Stevenson have returned from a visit to Taskee.

Mrs. Grace Brown and children have returned to Taskee after a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. John Stevenson.

Mont Stevenson was in town Monday from Taskee.

Born—To the wife of Neely Harvelle, last week, a fine boy.

Jas. Lovelace, Jr., was here from Poplar Bluff Sunday.

Mrs. Cox has returned to her home in St. Louis after a two weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Keathley.

Winford Stevenson has returned from Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Rev. W. W. Strother has closed a revival meeting at Bunker with a large number of converts and 15 additions to the Methodist church. The house was crowded and people came for miles to attend. He will hold meetings at other places when the weather moderates.

Annapolis News.

We have had a twelve inch snow since writing last week, and raining to-day, and prospect good for a heavy rain and washout.

Wm. Kitchell had a good horse to die Thursday night, supposed to be from blind staggers. Wm. Kelly also had a valuable mule to die from the botts. It is hard on both parties.

Church every Saturday and Sunday night, but not much service for the way-farer, as they pray the beer shop man out of town. They also say the Baptist people hide their light under a bushel and never let it shine. Certainly there are lots of good Christian men and women in the Baptist church.

A land buyer has been here all week to see Mr. Conway. A big deal is on.

Chas. E. Bolch has gone to St. Louis and may be absent two or three days, but I judge not, for he is a hustler and works mighty fast. His wife will take good care of the business while he is away.

Rev. James Middleton attends church every day and night, but the "Sanctis" won't let him preach because he is a Baptist, but permit him to testify.

If the Moss Tie Company does not at once move its ties off the public highways it should be prosecuted.

John Johnson is in town.

While Mrs. Evaline Brewer was away from home recently some one stole 200 pounds of meat from her house. No clue to the thief.

Walter Fitz was in town to-day seeing the voters and attending to other business.

Dobbs & Castile's mill is still to-day because of the weather.

Not many ties brought to town the past four days.

Snow was twelve inches deep here last week. Robert Hill, of Ironton, was here driving with a man by the name of Smith, traveling for Dun's. They had to up here and poor old Bob had to come back and drive the team by himself to Ironton through the snow and slush. But he would like to have had an eye-opener, but I didn't have a drink for myself.

Jas. Smith, who has been employed in R. E. Johnson's blacksmith shop for several months, moved his family to Pilot Knob and is running a shop at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Moyer drove to Ironton Tuesday expecting to spend the day, but were snow-bound and had to remain longer.

Our mail man has been coming in late since the blizzard and has been unable to go on further than Bellevue, as the snow is drifted so badly in some places that it is impossible to get through.

FOR SALE—My home in Ironton. A bargain. Apply to Mrs. J. W. LINDEROTE.

From Walter Clarkson.

My Dear Mr. Ake—I am sending you another copy of the Piquevine and hope you will find it interesting reading. It came to the library while I was at the University in Charlottesville, Va., and I promptly took it up when I came to Louisiana.

Virginia, Missouri and Louisiana are my favorite southern states, and I have been in them all—from Maryland to Texas. I love Virginia because there were born and reared my ancestors, and there lies buried my mother.

I love Missouri because I was born and reared there, and there lies buried my father. I love Louisiana because it is my home, and you know "there is no place like home." I have neither "silver in my voice nor honey on my lips," but if I had "silver in my voice" I would declaim the beauties and glories of Louisiana, and if I ever have "honey on my lips" I hope it will be gathered from Louisiana flower-beds by Louisiana bees. I think the country along the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley railroad, from Baton Rouge to New Orleans is the richest in world, and when all of the lands in northern Louisiana are reclaimed it will be a great producer of the wealth of the world.

I visited the Panama Canal in the fall, and when this canal is opened next year New Orleans and Louisiana will be benefited beyond the most sanguine expectations of everyone. The resources of Louisiana have been neglected in the past, but I think she has a great future before her when these resources are developed and more capital comes south.

With best wishes to you and yours and all inquiring friends, I am

Yours, truly,
J. W. CLARKSON.
